

Program (Final March 2007)

IPNA 2007 International Workshop on Hypertension in Children and Adolescents

Pediatric Hypertension and Target Organ Injury: Preventable or Inevitable

Date: Friday, August 31, 2007, 13:00 to 17:00 pm
Venue: 14th IPNA Congress 2007
Site: Lecture Hall in Palace of Arts, Budapest, Hungary (IPNA meeting site)
Registration: Included in the IPNA registration fee
Co-Chairs: Eileen D. Brewer MD (USA) and Daniel I. Feig MD (USA)

- 13:00-13:15p Introduction and Overview
Eileen D. Brewer MD, USA
- 13:15-14:45p Hypertension and the Risk for Target Organ Injury in Pediatrics and later in Adulthood
- 13:15-13:45p Cardiovascular Injury
Mark Mitsnefes MD, USA
- 13:45-14:15p Brain and Central Nervous System Injury
Daniel I. Feig MD, USA
- 14:15-14:45p Chronic Kidney Injury
Empar Lurbe MD, Spain
- 14:45-15:00p Questions
- 15:00-15:30p Refreshment Break
- 15:30-16:00p Role of ABPM in Identification and Prevention of the Risk for Target Organ Injury
Tomas Seeman MD, Czech Republic
- 16:00-16:30p Lifestyle Changes and Lifelong Medications: How Can Target Organ Injury Be Prevented?
Joseph Flynn MD, USA
- 16:30-17:00p Panel Discussion: What can pediatric renal programs do to prevent complications of hypertension and reduce morbidity and mortality in young adults with onset of hypertension in childhood?
All speakers